

ChainGE Lab
Labor Law for a
Global Value
Chain Economy

European
Research
Council

Funded by the European Union

Scan the link to join!

Illustration : The Big Fat Bao

Launch of the Practising ChainGE Website

Thursday, 18th June 2026 | 9:00-10:30 UTC | Online Event

We invite you to the launch of the Practising ChainGE website, a space created by ChainGE Lab to bring together law, research, art, organising, and storytelling.

The event will feature a panel discussion, “Understanding Supply Chains through Creative Practice,” exploring what becomes possible when supply chains are studied not only through law, reports, and corporate disclosures, but also through photography, poetry, sound, memory, and artistic practice.

Join us for the launch and a conversation on how creative methods can open new ways of seeing, understanding, and transforming global supply chains.

Would you like to contribute to Practising ChainGE? Learn more here.

Link to join : <https://tinyurl.com/4du9d7xd>

Programme

Welcome & Opening Remarks

Introducing ChainGE Lab and the Practising ChainGE website.

Website Walkthrough

A short guided tour of the platform and ways to engage.

Panel Discussion

Understanding Supply Chains through Creative Practice

Moderated by Nandita Shivakumar, with Ema Moolchand, Rahee Punyashloka, and Palani Kumar.

Poetry Reading

Reading poems submitted by workers to the website.

Open Discussion & Closing

A conversation on what kinds of knowledge and collaborations Practising ChainGE can make space for.